Soviet System Can Only Exist
Where People are Ignorant
Says Reichstag Member

BERLIN—Only romances and dreamers believe that the Russian red army will eventually strike at Germany and seek to establish a soviet here with the aid of which it will make war on France, declares Wilhelm Dietman, the independent socialist member of the Reichstag.

Dietman, who was one of the German delegates to the Moscow communist congress, in an article in the Freiheit turns upon bolshevism, which, he declares, is an impossible system which can exist only in Russia because of the "crass ignorance of the Russian peasants."

"German workmen," he goes on, "who are not two-legged beasts but outstanding human beings, would never submit to the dictatorship of a few." He says they have nothing in common with men who "are neither socialists nor communists and generally have only a vague understanding of politics, government and society."

"They are mostly unable to read and write," Dietman continues, "and their horizon hardly extends beyond their own thresholds, as might have been the case of the German peasants of the middle ages. And these men constitute 75 per cent of the entire population of the country."

"Filled passion and high order have idealized soviet Russia as a land where all the wrongs of the proletariat have an end. Hitherto, the exclusion of soviet Russia from western Europe has helped to crystallize and firmly establish these illusory conceptions," Dietman concludes.

GERMANS PROMISED IMMUNITY IF THEY GIVE UP WEAPONS

COBLENZ, Oct. 5.—The international high commission today decided to allow immunity from the strict laws of the army of occupation prohibiting Germans in the Rhineland from having unlicensed weapons. This decision was taken to assist in enforcement of the general German law for disarmament under the Spa agreement.

The decision permits Germans in the occupied area to surrender hidden arms and ammunition up to November 1 without being punished for having the arms. The allied officials admit that notwithstanding the severe punishment threatened for holding weapons, thousands of rifles and other arms have been concealed by Germans living in the Bridgehead zones.

Thousands of quail are trapped annually in Africa for the European market.

419 Eggs From 20 Hens In 30 Days

Mr. Dougherty Got This Result In October. Plan is Easily Tried.

"I tried Don Sung and the results were far past my expectations. I got 419 eggs in 30 days from 20 hens while moulting. I think this is wonderful, as they hardly laid at all before."—Frank Dougherty, 6940 E. 11th St., Indianapolis.

Mr. Dougherty bought $1 worth of Don Sung in October and wrote this letter in November. Figure his profit on 35 dozen eggs from hens that formerly laid little or nothing.

This may sound too good to be true, but it costs nothing to find out. We'll make you the same offer we made him.

Give your hens Don Sung and watch results for one month. If you don't find that it pays for itself and pays you a good profit besides, simply tell us and your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Don Sung (Chinese for egg-laying) is a scientific tonic and conditioner. It is easily given in the feed, improves the hen's health and makes her stronger and more active. It tones up the egg-laying organs, and gets the eggs, no matter how cold or wet the weather.

Don Sung can be obtained promptly from your druggist or poultry remedy dealer, or send $1.00 (includes war tax) for a package by mail prepaid. Burrell-Burger Co., 214 Columbia Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.

AUSTRIA ELECTS NEW NATIONAL ASSEMBLY ON OCTOBER 17TH

Bitter Campaign Between Two Dominant Parties Now in Full Swing

VIENNA—Just three weeks before the presidential ballot in America, Austria will elect on October 17 a new national assembly and the campaign is now at the top of the curve.

Beginning with the recess of parliament the two dominant parties, the Christian socialists and the social democrats, went on the stump and the contest is waged with all the bitterness and reproach, recrimination, charges and counter charges that are the natural outcome of an enforced coalition government which failed to satisfy the mass of either party.

On the one side are grouped the radical elements and on the other, under the general title of Christian Socialists, all the conservative factions that range from real democracy along moderate western lines to monarchists.

In the center stands the Grosse Deutsche party. Broadly it is grouped with the Conservatives, but its course in the present assembly has been to vote this way and that on vital measures obviously to preserve a strong balance of power in the house and to strengthen its hands in the coming elections by an appeal to both factions.

The assembly now stands 79 Christian Socialists, 81 Social Democrats and 26 Grosse Deutsche deputies. Political observers generally agree that the complexion of the next assembly will not be materially altered and that another coalition ministry must be looked for. They predict that both the big parties will lose slightly to the Grosse Deutsche giving it a position of greater advantage and strength in a new coalition ministry than it has yet enjoyed.

General opinion is that in such an event the Grosse Deutsche group will ally itself wholly with the right in all important measures and issues. This is conceded by the election appeal of the socialists which joins the Christian Socialist and Grosse Deutsche parties in blame for the failure of the present government to put through the reforms the Socialists advocated.

BOLSHEVISM LOSES ITS BEST BET

ONE gathers hopeful news from the recent dispatches as to the progress of the Italian labor situation, lately heralded as the beginning of the red revolution outside of Russia. The workmen seized the metal working plants at Milan and endeavored to operate them. The government, with unusual restraint, held back from military intervention until the Italian Federation of Labor met to consider the matter. By that time the workers in the plants were less sure about the perfect desirability of syndicalizing the factories, all not having gone as smoothly as expected, and the upshot was that the national labor body advised legislative rather than direct action to give the workers control. Then Premier Giolitti, the wise and liberal veteran of a lifetime of Italian politics, came to Milan with a suggestion for a basis of settlement, which has been adopted practically as it stood by both workers and employers. Italy's revolution, from which the Moscow reds expected great things, has not eventuated. At least, no sudden alteration has come about with fire and terror; although the changes in the industrial system which are indicated by the Giolitti plan are sufficiently different from the previous organization of Italian industry as perhaps to warrant the name of revolution. But it is to be worked out by harmonious co-operation along constitutional lines.

The situation in Italy is of great interest to the rest of the world because Italy has been, outside of Russia, the advance post of bolshevism. It has been considered that the universal "industrial unrest" was more pronounced in Italy than elsewhere, and it was freely predicted a year ago that it would come to a head there first, a prediction apparently justified by the Milan crisis of the last few weeks. That the crisis seems to have passed in Italy, and in the way it did, is thus of considerable importance, and the principles upon which the settlement between capital, labor and the public were reached are being studied with great interest by thoughtful men everywhere.

The Outlook summarizes the terms suggested by Giolitti and agreed upon by the opposing forces as comprising two plans, one a program of details to dispose of the immediate points of friction at Milan, and the other a comprehensive outline of principles for a permanent settlement. These plans are stated as follows:

- The first plan was to reach an accord on these points:
1. An increase in daily wages of four lire (normally eighty cents).
  2. A week's vacation yearly with full pay.
  3. Two days' full pay each year for men dismissed after three years' service.

The points on which an accord is still to be reached are:

1. Claims by the workmen that they should be paid for the period of the strike.
2. Refusal of the employers to re-employ persons guilty of violence.

The second plan is a consequence of the advice of the Italian Confederation of Labor and includes the appointment of a commission to consider the workmen's proposals to participate in the technical, financial and disciplinary management of factories; the commission's report to be made the basis for a bill embodying the workers' demands.

It will be seen that the first plan mentioned above involves nothing more novel than the terms usually reached in settling an ordinary strike—matters of higher wages and working conditions—with the possible exception of the third point, which seems to be a recognition of the fact that the workers' time and skill is in some sort an investment in the industry where it is expended, which entitles him to a permanent revenue from the industry over and above his wage. It would seem to be the beginning of a movement toward the principle that an industry is not the exclusive product and property of the capital put into it, but the joint product of the capital and the labor together, and thus also their joint property.

The second plan, which contemplates not only a satisfactory adjustment of the trouble at Milan but the creation of a code of industry which, as law, will be applicable to the whole Italian economic structure, suggests still further progress along the same road. All parties to the dispute have agreed to the formulation of a bill to realize in some measure demands of the workers for a share of technical, financial and disciplinary management of industry. Such a bill would not only accept labor's status as an investor in industry but also dower it with a partner's share in management. This is not a new idea to American industry. Something along similar lines has been worked out in numerous industrial concerns in this country. Where it is unique is that the principle has been accepted as an official national policy, rather than as the occasional experiment of a private industry under special conditions.

It is apparent that what Giolitti is seeking to perfect is a compromise between the old autocracy of capital and the new autocracy of labor which shall disinherit none of the legitimate aspirations of either group. It seeks to preserve to industry the incentives and rewards of ownership, and at the same time to see that these incentives and rewards are distributed without class limitations springing from wealth or opportunity. This is the basic problem implied in all efforts toward "democracy in industry." And in the particular case of Italy the grapple with the problem is doubly important because of the situation that had existed. The success of the Italian experiment has yet to be demonstrated, but the fact that in the country where the economic heresy of bolshevism had its strongest grip outside of Russia it was possible to unite labor and capital under the aegis of democratic government for a co-operative approach to the great economic puzzle is, in itself, a conspicuous testimony to the elasticity and strength of democracy.

COALLESS COLD DAYS

UPON the threshold of winter coal miners in widely scattered fields are ignoring the contracted word of their organizations' representatives: reducing coal production by vacation strikes.

Extraordinary effort must be made during the rest of the year to catch up with the average coal production, according to John B. Pratt, of the National Coal Association. This effort must give an increase of 768,000 tons each week over the September weekly average.

Two things naturally suggest themselves:

1. The need of miners for higher wages, and
  2. The need of the public for winter heat.
- In considering the latter need, it might be as well for the outlaws strikers to get it firmly fixed in their heads that the real sufferers in a fuel shortage are the poorest. The rich will get coal, even though it sells at the price of diamonds. They will get what coal there is, and if the miners bring about a shortage by outlaw strikes, they strike first and foremost at the people who cannot pay shortage prices.

THE CAPTAIN'S WAY

BY CLARISSA MACKIE
Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate

"Engaged to Dorothy and glooming alone like this?" laughed Captain Brooks, snipping his son's broad shoulder.

Bob made room for his father on the big rock, rapped the ashes from his pipe and carefully refilled it. When it was lighted and between his lips, he muttered glumly that there was going to be a bit of heavy weather.

Capt. Brooks glanced at sea and sky and groined. "Doul weather ashore, Bob. What's the matter? Quarreled with Dorothy?"

"Never—only we want to get married—and Dorothy doesn't want, to leave her mother."

"The other girls all married, eh?"

"Yes—three of them, all within two years, and Dorothy won't even suggest to her mother that we want to be married soon—you know that job in California—and—"

"Taking Dorothy away would leave the old lady all alone?"

"Yes—but she isn't old, dad. Mrs. Kane is charming—like her daughters. She's had a tough time of it—widowed young and had to raise those four girls—took bourners for years. Now she owns a little home and has settled down to be happy with Dorothy—then, wool! along I come and carry off the ewe lambkin! It's tough—but I hate to go alone."

"You know I've never seen any of them except Dorothy—she's a sample the rest must be pretty nice. I'm going to New York before long—perhaps I shall run down and see Mrs. Kane."

"Don't try to persuade her, dad. Dorothy and I feel ashamed to do it—we'll wait a year or so, and then perhaps she will come out with us—she'd like California."

"I'm not a meddler, Bobby—I certainly shan't give your plans away—well, I have letters to write and afterward, if the tide is good, you might go out with me and catch a mess of blues."

"Right." "I'll go down and overhaul the boat," and Bob, having recovered his customary cheerfulness, went whistling down the beach to the wharf. His father watched him out of sight, his bright blue eyes very tender—he knew the pain of parting from an only son; Bob's education and training had been away from the sea and its lure.

He was a mining engineer with a bright future, and the captain, retired from sailing the seven seas, knew that he must spend a lonely old age, for Bob's mother had died many years ago and an efficient housekeeper ruled the low brown house on the hill. The captain sighed as he went up the hill and then smiled at the happy future ahead of Bob—after all, Bob's happiness was his father's joy.

Dorothy Kane met her future father-in-law at the little railroad station out on Long Island. She was a pretty girl, with the fresh wholesomeness of outdoor life, and the blue sky seemed reflected in her eyes while the warm sunshine was in her hair and in her sweet disposition.

"It seems strange that you have never met my mother," she chattered as they rode down to the village in a rattling old stage drawn by two ancient but skittish horses. "I hope you won't mind being bounced around in Peter's stage—mother likes to have us patronize him—he's old and the motor buses have about ruined his business."

"I don't mind—at all!" declared the captain jerkily as they went over a bump. And he didn't. He was thinking that Dorothy's mother had a very kind heart to consider the old stage driver, and he thought that little Dorothy must be like her mother to follow suit so cheerfully.

"Here we are!" cried Dorothy, as the stage rattled to a final stop before a white gate. The captain got stiffly down, looking very smart in his dark blue uniform and cap, with his handsome, clean-shaven face. He paid Peter "bug" liberally and then, cap in hand, went up the gravel-strewn path to greet the little lady on the front steps.

Mrs. Kane was small like Dorothy, with a sunny disposition—she had brown eyes like Cynthia—dimples like Ethel—an enchanting smile like Beth—and her own lovely snow-white hair. She wore a pretty pink cotton dress that made Capt. Brooks decide in a moment that pink was the prettiest color that ever was for young-old ladies!

"It is such a relief to know that you are going to be just like Bob," sighed Mrs. Kane as they sat down to an old-fashioned country "tea."

"I hope you will like me as much as you do Bob," observed the captain as he reached in delicious strawberry shortcake and cream.

"That will be so easy," exclaimed Ethel, for the married daughters were all there that night. The captain joined in the laugh that followed and when his passing glance paused on Mrs. Kane's flushed, mirthful face, he felt a funny little twinge around his heart—he wondered a little breathlessly if he had been reckless about the shortcake.

He felt it again later in the evening while Dorothy and her sisters cleared away the table and washed the dishes. Mrs. Kane took him into the pretty little parlor with its treasures from the sea that was so near, and its pieces of old-fashioned furniture that brought memories of his happy boyhood. There was an old tinkling piano there, and she sang to him in a sweet low voice the old songs they both loved and that belonged to a more tranquil decade.

The old songs and the sweetness of the crowded garden—roses and china picks, mignonette and day lilies—then the quiet little chat with Dorothy's mother; and afterward, a night spent in the slant-walled best room of the cottage—with pictures of all the girls smiling at him from all ages of development—roses tossed against his window screens by mischievous Dorothy with an invitation to breakfast, proved the beginning of a delightful visit.

The following week was a repetition

MYSTERIOUS NEW GIRL IN HIGH SCHOOL PROVES TO BE MOVIE ACTRESS

(Weekly's Diary, Monday, Sept. 20.)

I can't see why in the world it is so hard to keep a diary. Here I started this book on September 8th and now I'm three days behind. Let's see. What happened Monday?

Cloudy, sultry day. Went to History and English in the morning. Made poor recitation in History and flunked in English.

Went to Caesar and Algebra in the afternoon. Flunked in Caesar and made poor recitation in Algebra.

How exciting! If I had four pieces of carbon paper, I would make that story do for every day of the week. But I told Dot (Sanders) I could keep just as good a diary as she, and she said she was never going to miss writing two full pages every day till Christmas. Of course, I can't let her beat me.

I suppose I'll have to tell a story. "Once upon a time there was a little boy and he had a cat and the cat ran away and he went out on the back porch and called kitty, kitty, kitty, kitty, kitty, kitty, kitty, kitty. But what if Dot would see this page! I never could fill this book up with that story unless I made it continued from day to day. I'm afraid the chapters would be too much alike."

Who's that at the door? Now doesn't that beat all? Here I was just a minute ago, couldn't think of a thing to write in this perfectly darling diary and now I have so much to write that I don't see how I can possibly get it all in.

What do you think of that? A movie actress in our school. How thrilling! I can't understand how she ever got clear back here from her home in California.

Joe Lyons is a perfect dear to stop and tell me about it. I knew something was queer about that strange girl who came in last Friday with her books. "She came from nowhere and in the evening she vanishes to nowhere. Joe says she told Clarence she used to live in California, and when he asked for more about it, she simply said, 'Oh, I was in the movies for a while.'"

Isn't it perfectly killing. A movie actress going to our high school! Why in the world would she ever go to this school? I simply can't understand it.

tion of the first day, and the captain lingered, loath to go; then, Bob's desperate letter complaining of loneliness, clamoring for news of Dorothy, sent the captain to hastily scribbling a letter—time was precious these last few days—while he sent by special delivery. His eyes twinkled as he wrote:

"Dear Bobby. Coming home next week. Mollie (Mrs. Kane) and I will be married in August, and shall spend next winter in California—that will be nice for you and Dorothy if you should be there then! Lovingly, Dad. P. S.—Dorothy is working on her romance—June bride—she will write."

BACK TO PROSPERITY

BY JOHN W. HILL

Financial Editor, Iron Trade Review
The present price movement is not new or surprising. It is merely an accentuation of the price reaction which has been quietly working in this country and in all industrial nations since last spring. There is being built a foundation for bedrock, sober prosperity.

High wages will recede more slowly than the cost of living. High taxes and high freight rates constitute fundamental production costs which must be reckoned with.

The smashing of all values overnight would hurt the country into economic chaos. Therefore, efforts are being made to keep the process of deflation orderly. It is always better to walk down stairs than to jump out of the window.

This does not mean that no commodity will reach the pre-war level. Copper, silk, wool and hides are at, or near, their 1913 quotations now. Raw rubber is some 50 per cent below its pre-war price. In all of these markets there is a degree of overproduction which is not so apparent in other lines.

As usually happens, retail prices are more speedily reflecting the reductions in the wholesale trade.

Some shrewd financiers believe that the creation of almost $20,000,000,000 in new wealth this year in crops will help to bolster up business activities.

The one notable exception to the general trend of prices has been in the iron and steel industry. Its price level was maintained by heavy unfilled orders. But the underlying position of the industry is being weakened by the sharp decline of new buying.

The reduction of Ford's has attracted attention upon the automobile industry. Although the Ford announcement at first was greeted in a hostile manner by other motor producers, some have already fallen in line.

The abundance of goods on domestic markets is partially explained by falling exports and expanding imports. The August excess of exports, totaling $65,000,000, was the lowest of any month since October, 1913. The month's imports increased 68 per cent over 1913, while exports decreased 9 per cent. The August record was also lower than July, whereas in former years an expansion usually occurred.

War inflation humbled the almighty dollar. In June it was worth 37 cents compared with pre-war values. Lower commodity prices are reviving the dollar's drugged self-respect. Nothing indicates this more

Which president served but one month? W. H. Harrison.

By how many electoral votes in the election of 1917 did the democratic nominee for president defeat the republican nominee? Twenty-three.

Which president was at one time speaker of the national house of representatives? James K. Polk.

What is the popular name of the official residence of the president of the United States? The White House.

Which president said, "We hold these truths to be self-evident—that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness?" Thomas Jefferson.

vidently than the recent recovery of Liberty bond prices. The advance in bond quotations also reflects the easier credit situation. This has resulted from falling prices and remarkable clearing away of goods' congestion by the railroads.

The bureau of labor reports that out of 14 industries surveyed in August, 10 showed fewer employees than in July. This is due to diminished industrial activity. Rapidly growing immigration will further increase the labor supply and cause readjustment of the wages of common labor. Immigrants are now pouring into the country at the rate of over 1,000,000 a year. This is equal to the peak of pre-war immigration.

Dice An Ancient Vice

Gambling with cards and dice has prevailed from the earliest times. We do not read of gambling houses in the classic literature of Greece, but there can be no doubt that the vice was very widely practiced in private houses. In Rome, under the emperors, gambling prevailed very extensively. Augustus and most of the succeeding sovereigns were passionately fond of the dice, and the Emperor Claudius wrote a book on the subject. A Roman would transport to a gambling resort his whole fortune—coins, papers and chattels—and after losing all, would even seize the cloaks of his slaves to stake on the change of luck.

Raisins' Nutrient Washed Away

Much of the nutritive value of raisins is lost by washing them. In the drying process the skin of the raisin is cracked, which results in the sugaring of the pulp. When the raisin is washed the valuable grape sugar is dissolved and thrown away, and yet we would not advise the good housewife to refrain from washing the fruit.

No Hay in the Philippines

Hay is almost unknown in the Philippines for the reason that grass cannot be cured on account of the great amount of humidity in the air. The animals of the cities which require fodder are supplied with green grass, which is cut in the country, dried and carried into the cities, where it is sold by the bundle. Some hay is shipped from the Pacific coast, but by the time it gets to Manila it is very costly.

TRAFFIC THROUGH SOO CANALS HEAVY DURING SEPTEMBER

Freight Movement Largest for Season With Exception of August

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., Oct. 6.—Freight traffic through the American and Canadian canals here showed a total of 11,748,131 tons for September. The traffic for the month was the highest of any month this season except August, when it totalled 12,425,200 tons.

Of the freight moved 654,981 tons went through the Canadian waterway. Movement of grain, lumber and iron ore showed an increase. Bituminous coal aggregated 2,040,774 tons, a marked increase over September shipments last year. The movement of hard coal, 177,123 tons, was the smallest for any month of the season, and well below last year's figure.

The report for the month shows 11,624,488 bushels of wheat and 3,102,770 bushels of other grains moved during September, compared to 10,180,991 bushels of wheat and 2,018,391 bushels of other grain in the corresponding month in 1919. Copper shipments were 6,647 tons compared to 12,800 a year ago. Iron ore movement total 8,721,412 tons against 7,977,562 tons last year.

GEORGIA VOTING IN SECOND PRIMARY TO DECIDE NOMINATION

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 6.—The runoff primary to decide the democratic nomination for governor of Georgia is being held today with Thomas W. Hardwick, former U. S. senator and Clifford Walker, former state attorney general, as candidates.

In the first primary Hardwick backed four county unit votes to give him a majority and the nomination.

OYSTERS

This is the season when oysters again come largely into use. A word of caution may, therefore, not be out of place.

Oyster growers have found that a large part of the public prefers what is known as "fat" oyster, and this preference has accordingly been met by the dealers by "fattening" the oysters after taking them from the beds. This "fattening" however is not only a humbug, but constitutes a source of danger.

As a matter of fact, the process is not a "fattening" one at all. It consists in floating the oysters for a time in brackish water. Having been grown in sea water, the oysters when placed in a different specific gravity, absorb water and become plump and white. Their appearance is improved.

Unfortunately, the brackish streams in which the oysters are "floated" are not infrequently polluted with sewage, and so it happens that in this "fattening" process the oysters take up considerable amounts of polluted material, especially fecal bacteria, including the germs of typhoid fever.

Those who eat raw oysters will do well not to express a preference for plump, white oysters, but to ask rather for lean gray oysters, having a good salty flavor.

Self-Consciousness
Q. I would like to know if there is any cure for a blotchy skin, as at the least bit of excitement my face goes red and blotchy, especially about the eyes. It seems to be a steady thing every day about mid-day or at night, and is very annoying to a young man.

A. You are probably entirely too self-conscious. Perhaps, you do not get enough fresh air and exercise. Why not join a local Y. M. C. A. gymnasium class and get the benefit of cold showers and the swimming pool.

Quinsy
Q. Please give me all the information you can of the disease known as quinsy, if there is such a disease. I am getting where it is hard for me to eat on account of not being able to swallow any food. It seems as if the passage in my throat is closing up.

A. In quinsy there is an acute inflammation of the throat, resulting in the formation of a sac of pus, usually behind the tonsil. The condition is readily relieved by opening the sac and draining out the pus. This, of course, can only be done by an experienced physician. From your letter, however, it is not at all clear that you are suffering from quinsy, and I would urge you to consult a physician at once to find out the cause of your trouble.

Pabst Stock Farm Sale of 40 Bulls

from famous Holstein families, including

12 by Creator 2 by King Pontiac Champion
12 by Woodcrest Clyde 9 by Pabst King Pontiac Lad
35 between 4 and 11 months old and 5 ready for Service

Saturday, October 9—10:30 A. M. Sharp

A Few of the Offerings

1 Ear Tag 393, PABST CREATOR ORMSBY, born Jan. 14, 1920. Sire, Creator, Dam, PABST INEZ ORMSBY, who as a senior two-year-old made the remarkable record of 27.97 lbs. of butter and who came back this year as a senior three-year-old and made 32.55 lbs. of butter from 47.5 lbs. milk. She is now on yearly test and making a creditable record. Her dam is a 24-lb. daughter of King Ormsby that is also on yearly test. Thus, in this young bull, you will have an animal, whose four nearest dams will have very good yearly records. The great granddam of this calf is a 25-lb. daughter of Sir Ormsby Hengervold De Kol who is a half sister by the same sire to Pieterje Maid Ormsby, the greatest foundation cow of the breed. The calf is more white than black and a handsome individual.

2 Ear Tag 395, PABST CREATOR MUTUAL DE KOL, born Jan. 18, 1920. Sire, Creator, and dam, Pabst Sweet Clover, who has the following records:
2 yrs. 4 mos. 424.9 lbs. milk 18.65 lbs. butter
2 yrs. 5 mos. 533.8 lbs. milk 22.38 lbs. butter
5 yrs. 2 mos. 401.1 lbs. milk 30.67 lbs. butter
6 yrs. 4 mos. 667.9 lbs. milk 34.78 lbs. butter
The dam of this calf is one of the best daughters of King Pontiac Champion. She was sold in the Minnesota National Sale for $3500. The young bull is about evenly marked as to the black and white, is straight and deep, and a very attractive young bull. His dam and sire's dam average 730.1 lbs. of milk and 36.51 lbs. of butter in 7 days.

3 Ear Tag 398, PABST KING PONTIAC LAD 334, born Feb. 8, 1920. Sire, Pabst King Pontiac Lad, Dam, Pabst Maplecrest Arrowhead, that has just made a senior four-year-old record of 33.99 lbs. of butter and is on yearly test doing well. She has a 28-lb. dam and a sire whose three first daughters have made over 32 lbs. under full age. She is sired by Maplecrest King De Kol who combines in a close degree the blood of Friend Hengervold De Kol Butter Boy and Pontiac Aggie Koradyke, the former sire being the first bull to have four daughters over 1200 lbs. of butter in one year. The young bull is nicely marked—more white than black, is large and growthy and a good individual.

4 Ear Tag 400, PABST CREATOR VON HOUTER, born Feb. 24, 1920. Sire, CREATOR, Dam, Pabst Champton Pearl, who has a 7-day record of 529.0 lbs. of milk and 27.52 lbs. of butter and is now on yearly record. Her 18-lb. two-year-old daughter sold in public sale for $2000.00. The calf is dark in color and a good individual.

5 Ear Tag 412, PABST IVY PONTIAC, born April 1, 1920. Sire, KING PONTIAC CHAMPION. The dam of this calf is Pabst Maplecrest Ivy who has recently made 32.82 lbs. of butter in 7 days as a senior three-year-old. Her dam made 34 lbs. of butter in December and is now on long time test making better than 1000 lbs. for the year. This young bull is to be bought for as he is one of the few young sons of King Pontiac Champion whose two greatest maternal dams have each made better than 32 lbs. of butter and both on yearly test. He is almost white and is a No. 1 calf all over.

Come to the sale even though you don't intend to buy.

WHAT! BABY BORN WITH GOLD TOOTH!

Gateway for the "Gold Tooth Kid"

J. T. Lee here has a little gold mine in his home. The mine's name is Eva Catherine and she raises nuggets in her mouth. Babes born with silver soap ladders beneath their tongues and babes with railway bonds in the banks and linker in their cellars—all these—bats off to Atlanta's Auriferous Infant!

Here are the allegations: Eva is 14 months old. Recently her first tooth "hatched." Day by day the piteful parents watched the monthly meeting of the alderman Friday night.

TOLEDO OFFICIALS RESIGN UNDER CLEAN-UP PRESSURE

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 6—Chris Wall, safety director, resigned today under pressure of the campaign for a crime clean-up here. His resignation came unexpectedly following Mayor Schrieber's request yesterday that Police Chief Herbert and Inspector of Detectives Delehanthy be retired on pensions.

Use This Once a Week Have Pretty Pearly Teeth

No matter what tooth powder, paste or cream is used, nor how often used, at best it can only partially remove plaques and stains from the teeth. The proof of this assertion is the necessity of frequent visits to the dentist for an extra cleansing and polishing. Hence the need of some home treatment that is simple, efficacious and harmless. After much experimenting with the different grits and polishes an ideal combination has been worked out by a dentist of many years' experience. He has called it "Once-a-Week Tooth Polish."

The use of this product, in addition to whatever dentifrice is used, keeps the teeth perfectly free from slimy plaques and discoloration. Anyone who procures a package of "Once-a-Week Tooth Polish" from the druggist and uses as directed will not only keep the teeth sparkling white and beautiful, but will prevent tooth and gum trouble—and dentist's bills.

PROBE BURNING OF GERMAN SHIP IN HAMBURG HARBOR

World's Largest Ship, Now Under Construction, Was to Have been Delivered to Allies

PARIS, Oct. 6.—The inter-allied commission in Berlin will be requested to investigate circumstances of the burning at Hamburg of the German steamship Bismarck, which was building at a shipyard and was to have been delivered to the allies under the terms of the peace treaty. The Bismarck was to have been a steamer of 56,000 gross tons (nearly 2,000 more than the tonnage of the Vaterland, now the Leviathan) and Germany for explanations regarding which would have made her the world's largest steamer.

WOMEN TO MAINTAIN OBSERVER AT LEAGUE MEETING AT GENEVA

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The International Woman Suffrage alliance will appoint a woman resident in Geneva to report "in neutral manner" to the organized women of the world all facts concerning operations of the league of nations.

This announcement was made today by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the alliance, who added selection would be made in London November 22.

Officers of the alliance will request that all other women's international organizations endorse their selection or send representatives of their own, thus forming a committee of women in Geneva whose business it will be to keep the women of the world correctly informed as to every detail of the league of nations," said Mrs. Catt.

FARMERS ARE WARNED AGAINST STOCK FEED NOW ON THE MARKET.

Millet Bran Has Low Nutritive Value Says State Agricultural Bureau

MADISON, Wis.—The State Department of Agriculture has issued a warning to farmers concerning the low nutritive value of a new stock feed that is now on the market.

Millet bran, the offal obtained in the manufacture of miller flour, has low value as a feedstuff, according to W. H. Stroud, head of the Feed Inspection Division of the State Department of Agriculture. This product has recently been found for the first time on the Wisconsin markets.

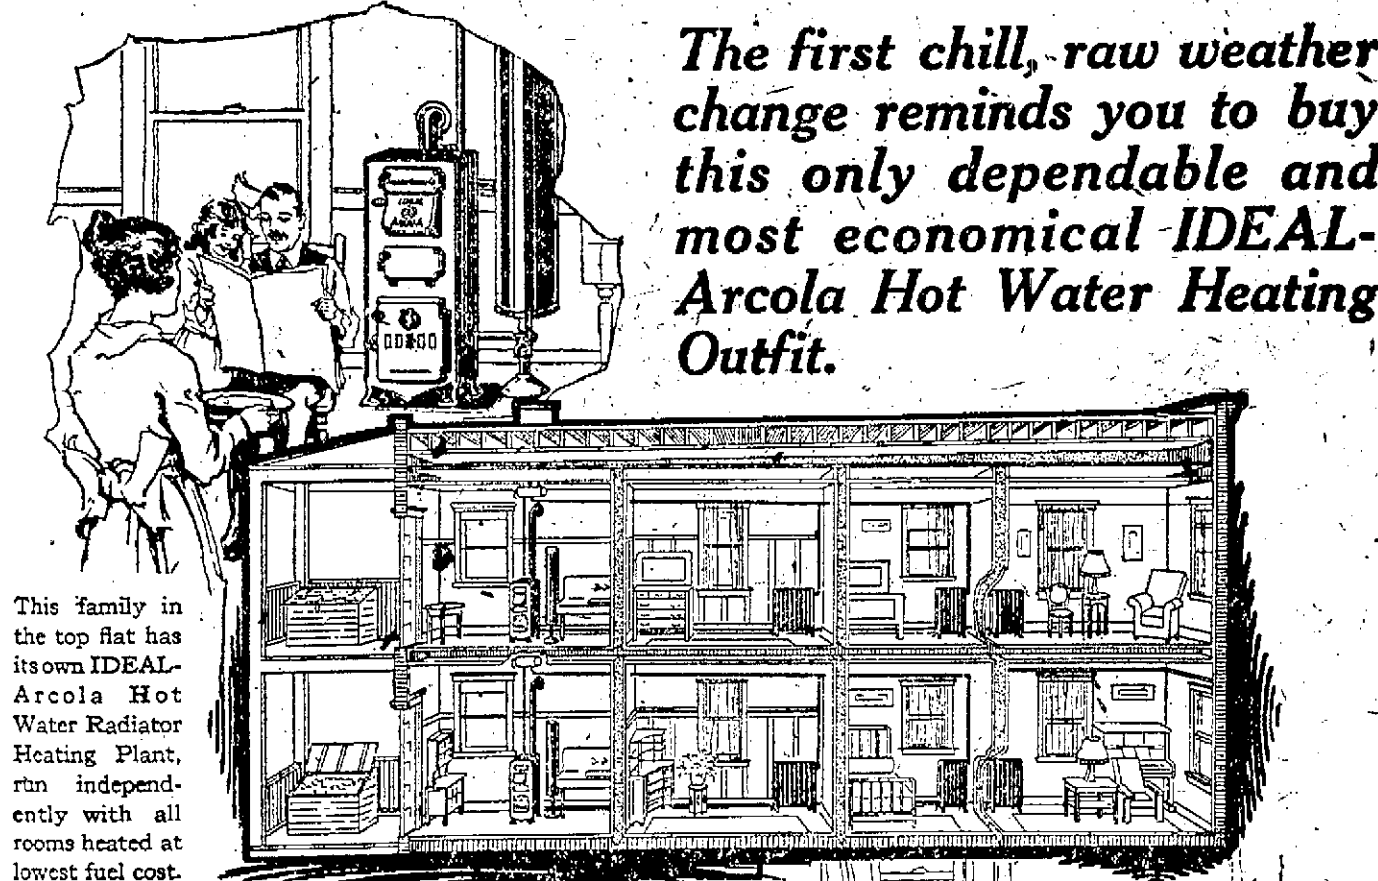

An analysis in the feed inspection laboratory of the department showed that it had about the same composition as oat hulls and, therefore, the feed belongs in the class with roughage, such as hay and straws and not with concentrates, such as middlings. Since the product looks very much like wheat middlings farmers are cautioned against the purchase of feed without a label giving the analysis.

AWAIT ORDERS TO SINK GERMAN SUB IN LAKE MICHIGAN

If Naval Peace Terms are Carried Out U-Boat Will be Scuttled off Chicago Harbor

CHICAGO.—If naval terms of the treaty of Versailles are carried out by the allies the U-97, a German submarine with a record of at least seven allied ships sunk, will itself be sunk in 100 feet of water about twenty miles off Chicago harbor this fall.

Orders for the destruction of the U-97 were issued some time ago, but later withdrawn pending decision whether that part of the German peace treaty which provides for the destruction of all surrendered war-craft is to be put into execution. There is some difference of opinion among the allies, France and Italy especially being anxious to keep some of the late German ships to bolster up their own navies.

In the meantime the U-97, which toured the Great Lakes in the interest of the Victory Loan campaign, following the armistice, is tied up alongside Perry's old flagship, the Commodore, here. Only the hull of the old-time terror of the seas remains, practically all her machinery and fittings have been removed, the majority to be sent to the Annapolis naval academy. Her five inch deck gun rests on the wharf beside the rust eaten hull.

In spite of the gutting process which the boat has undergone the hull is still worth $15,000 to $20,000 as junk, according to Captain Edward A. Evers, naval commandant in the Chicago district. There is a large amount of copper and brass aboard which could be recovered by breaking up the boat. The powerful storage batteries, which formerly ran the U-boat when submerged, are still aboard, and probably will go down with the ship if she is sunk. Although the batteries are worth several thousand dollars, and an offer has been made for them by a private purchaser, the naval department refused to permit the sale.

If the orders to destroy the hull are revived the U-97 will be towed out to sea by the gunboat Wilmette, formerly the steamer Eastland, which turned over in the Chicago river in 1915, drowning more than 800 excursionists. About twenty miles out in the lake the charts show more than 100 feet of water, and there Captain Evers plans to open up the U-boat's sea-cocks and then batter her to pieces with shells from the Wilmette's five inch guns.

Ruth Roland's Beauty Advice

Ruth Roland, that beautiful actress, is famous for her wonderful complexion. When a friend inquired about it, she said, "It's all due to a simple toilet preparation called derwillo, which I use twice daily. Any girl or woman can beautify their complexion if they follow my advice. Here it is: Just go to any up-to-date toilet counter and get a bottle of derwillo, use it as directed, and let the first application will astonish you. It immediately gives the skin a youthful, rosy-white appearance and clear baby softness so much desired by everyone." Be sure to read the large announcement of Miss Roland's soon to appear in this paper, in which she tells how to instantly have a beautiful, rosy-white complexion and soft unlined skin everyone "just loves to touch." In the meantime try derwillo today; you will be delightfully surprised."

FRANCE LOSING SUPREMACY IN THE SILK WORLD

Comparative Figures Show Far Eastern Countries to be Leaders

WASHINGTON.—Comparative figures on silk production, based on the last crop would seem to indicate that France is losing its supremacy in the silk industry. A report from the European division of the bureau of commerce says, however, that great increases in production were noted in the countries of the East and particularly the Levant.

Silk production in France this year satisfied but 10 percent of the domestic requirement despite liberal bounties offered for silk culture. Italy in 1919 produced ten times as much silk as France and bids fair to maintain that lead while Milan is rapidly eclipsing Lyons as a silk manufacturing center, the report continued.

According to figures compiled by silk merchants of Lyons, Japan, lead in silk production in 1919, China was next, the Levant third, Italy fourth and France a bad fifth. The total yield for the world was estimated at 27,300,000 kilos (or 2.20 pounds.)

HARDING OFF TONIGHT FOR SWING THROUGH MID-WESTERN STATES

Engagements Will Keep Republican Candidate Busy Till Late in October

MARION, O., Oct. 6.—With his departure from Marion today for the middle west, Senator Harding begins a speech-making swing that will keep him away from home almost continuously until late October.

The present trip will take him through Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri and Oklahoma, and he will not return until after noon next Monday. Late on the following day he will leave for a trip through Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio and Missouri and then after a few days' rest will go east.

The first set speech on the mid-western circuit is to be made at Des Moines, Iowa, at a forenoon meeting tomorrow. Tomorrow night he is to speak at Omaha, Neb., the following day at St. Joseph and Kansas City, Mo., and Saturday night at Oklahoma City, Okla. It is expected that in addition he will make numerous short talks from the rear platform of his car.

Although no speech is scheduled the nominee's special train will stop for four hours late today at Chicago and he will consult with political leaders at the national committee headquarters.

PRESENT CHANGES IN LEAGUE PACT AT FIRST SESSION

Denmark, Norway and Sweden
Have Four Amendments to Propose

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Four amendments to the Covenant of the League of Nations suggested by the Danish, Norwegian and Swedish governments, probably will be taken up at the first meeting of the Assembly of the League at Geneva on November 15. They have already been submitted to all members of the league for study and approval of the council and a majority vote of the Assembly to become effective.

The suggestion proposes a fixed annual meeting of the assembly to be held either at the time provided for in the rules of procedure or on a special date such as the second Monday in September. It is also proposed that on the demand of 10 members of the league a special meeting of the assembly shall be called at any time.

Another proposal would regularize the method of selecting the four non-permanent members of the council. It is suggested that the assembly after the first selection shall name a new state each year to serve for a period of four years which shall not be subject to re-election for the following period. The purpose is to secure successive representation on the council of a large number of states while making only one change in membership each year.

A third amendment proposed to omit the word "generally" from the following paragraph in Article XIII: "Respect as to the interpretation of a treaty as to any question of international law, as to the existence of any fact which, if established, would constitute a breach of any international obligation, or as to the extent and nature of the reparation to be made for any such breach, are declared to be among those which are especially suitable for submission to arbitration."

The purpose is to make the obligation to resort to arbitration more absolute and precise.

The fourth amendment would permit the council to authorize a state in the vicinity of another state which has been ordered to maintain a certain degree of intercourse with the Council, to suspend that state from directing or attacking its neighbor. It is contended that some measure of freedom should be allowed especially in the case of smaller states where the fulfillment of the blockade obligation might lead to occupation of territory by the covenant-breaking state.

RIVOLI

When James King Cotton, the noted reformer meant "legs" he said "limbs" and when Annabel, his lovely daughter meant limbs, she quite plainly said "legs."

One would hardly think that such a natural gift could very well get along with such a hard-shelled old crab as Dr. Cotton, but Annabel loved every reflection of his immodestly bald head and condescended to him when an innocent indiscretion of hers caused his resignation as president of the Purify League.

Such is the delightfully whimsy situation at the opening of "What Women Love," Annette Kellerman's latest comedy drama that opened at the Rivoli today. It is a rare combination of breath-catching drama and delightful humor. In some of the marvelous scenes Miss Kellerman excels her previous world's record for underwater swimming and accomplishes a remarkable dive of 150 feet from the mast of a pitching schooner in mid-ocean.

Supporting Miss Kellerman are to be seen such favorites of the silver sheet as Wheeler Oakman, Walter Long, Ralph Lewis, Carl Ullman and notoriously beautiful Bull Montana.

To complete the program, "Topics of the Day," bright bits from our leading newspapers, "Great American Dawn," Robert Bruce scenic and screen snapshots, intimate pictures of our leading photoplay stars in and about their homes.

MAJESTIC

Last times today to see Mildred Harris Chaplin in "Tolly of the Storm Country." Starting tomorrow for three days, Mary Miles Minter in "Nurse Marjory," by Israel Zangwill. Pride of position vs. pride of poverty, is the theme of Israel Zangwill's "Nurse Marjory." When Greek meets Greek the situation is presumed to be tense. But when Pride meets Pride the surrounding atmosphere fairly crackles with electricity. Especially if one of the aristocratic prides is a poor and humble pride. For there is no pride on earth so arrogant and stiff-necked as the pride of the poor who are self-respecting.

Lady Marjory had everything in life and John Danbury, the labor leader, had not. Daughter of an aristocratic house, bearer of an old distinguished title, society's pet and favorite, wooed by noblemen, Lady Marjory was still unsatisfied until she met John Danbury and knew that he loved her. Then she thought happiness was to be hers. But she had not counted on John Danbury's tremendous pride. The pride that would not accept the love that someone in a higher walk of life graciously handed down to him.

Now Lady Marjory overcame that stubborn pride of her lovely lover makes a delightful comedy drama.

CASINO

Margarita Fisher in "Money Isn't Everything," will leave the Casino tonight, to be replaced tomorrow by "Shipwrecked by Cannibals."

"Shipwrecked by Cannibals," is the authentic picture story of two daring American seamen among the man-eating savages of New Guinea. Never have there been pictures like these, absolutely true and real yet surpassing in drama the wildest fiction of scenario writers. When Edward Lammie and William Alder set out to obtain for the Southern Academy of Sciences, some pictures of the South Sea Islands, they had no expectation of being shipwrecked, and least of all, on a cannibal island whose only other foreign visitor, a missionary, had met his terrible end only a few months before. As a result, these pictures have a reality about them which convinces as nothing else could do. You will look on these marvelous scenes of savagery and know that you are seeing actual life as it really is, and through out you will feel the same dread that Messrs. Lammie and Alder felt, until they were rescued and were able to bring these wonderful pictorial records back to civilization.

BIJOU

When you wonder how the new Karo Maple gets its delicious tang of rich maple syrup remember—

The makers of Karo Maple use annually over a thousand tons of the purest and best flavored maple sugar from the finest maple groves in Vermont and Canada.

This is one reason why over five million cans of Karo Maple were purchased by American housewives last year.

This is a greater sale, by far, than any kind of maple syrup offered.

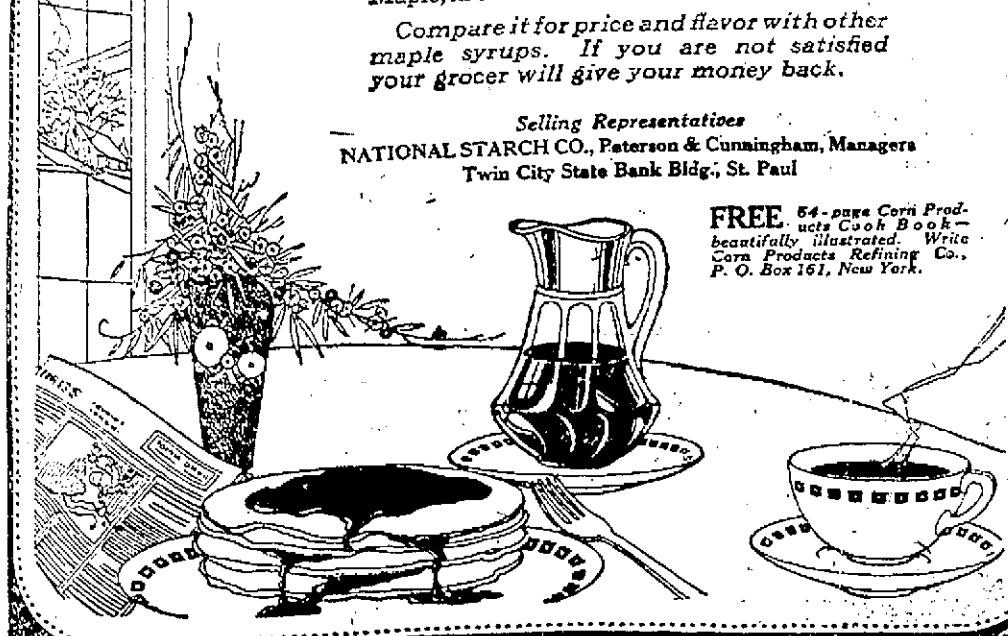

The moderate price of Karo Maple is also an attraction—it costs less than any other syrup of approaching quality and flavor.

Go to your grocer today and get a can of Karo Maple, in the GREEN CAN.

Compare it for price and flavor with other maple syrups. If you are not satisfied your grocer will give your money back.

INDIANS CONFIDENT OF TWO STRAIGHT WIN OVER BROOKLYN

Bagby is Probable Choice to Pitch for Cleveland in Today's Match

CLEVELAND CONTINUES TO RULE SLIGHT FAVORITE

Southpaw Pitching Baffles Indians' Left-hand Hitters;

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—With one victory to their credit in the world's series of 1920, the Cleveland Indians, champions of the American league, are confident today of making it two straight over Brooklyn, standard bearers of the National league. However, Manager Robinson and his players were not discouraged and were determined to reverse the result today.

The Brooklyn players had no excuses to offer for their defeat, but many of their supporters insisted that the "breaks of the game" favored the Indians yesterday.

Cleveland's shrewdness in holding the Superbas to five hits makes it appear certain that Speaker will pitch Bagby today.

The pitching selection for Brooklyn was a problem and it was not certain just who would get the assignment. Manager Robinson picked Marquard for yesterday's game on the theory that a left-hander in good condition could stop the heavy hitting left-hand Cleveland hitters. Robinson's judgment was vindicated, because of the five hits made off Marquard only one was credited to a left-hand hitter. That was the single made by Sewell in the second inning.

Not only did Marquard's southpaw pitching baffle the Indians' left-hand hitters, but the right-hand pitching of Mumma and Cudde in the last three innings was so effective against both left and right-hand hitters that not a Cleveland player was able to reach first base.

Indications, however, pointed to Marquard being selected for the task. He has made the best record this year of any Brooklyn pitcher. According to reports from betting centers there is not nearly so much betting interest in the series as in former years. One firm reported that several thousands of dollars had been placed in its hands as stakeholders, but the amount was far less than in previous years. Another firm estimated the amount in the hands of Wall Street commissioners was only about $50,000, while in previous years bets on the world's series in the financial district anywhere from $20,000 to $50,000.

Cleveland continued to rule a slight favorite to win the series, the odds remaining at six to five. Brooklyn supporters, however, insisted upon 7 to 5.

Weather conditions today were favorable for the second game of the world's series.

The probable batting order for today's game:

TWO GAMES FEATURE TODAY'S PROGRAM OF WOMEN'S GOLF MEET

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 6.—Two matches of more than ordinary interest were on the program of the Women's National Golf championship at the Myrfield club here today.

In the first, Miss Alexia Stirling, Atlanta, present champion, meets Miss Elaine Roseenthal of Shinnecockset.

On the lower bracket of the draw, Mrs. J. V. Hunt, Pittsburgh, plays against Miss Mildred Caverly, of Philadelphia.

The match between Marion Hopkins, New York and Mrs. F. C. Lettis, Chicago, was expected to furnish a surprise although it was conceded the former has the advantage over the Chicago woman.

CLEVELAND WILD AFTER ANNEXING OPENING CONTEST

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 6.—Lines formed all American league park here before the booths opened today to distribute reserved seats to those lucky enough to receive allocations.

Never before has the city been so wild over baseball. Enthusiasm over the Indians winning the first pennant since Cleveland has had organized baseball forty-two years—was in significant comparison to that shown over the Trikes victory yesterday.

WEAK SISTERS

SEATTLE.—There is expected to be several shifts in franchises among the clubs of the Pacific Coast league before another year. Tacoma and Vancouver want to get in.

TOM IN "FILLUMS"

LOS ANGELES.—The call of the west and its movie colony has been answered by Tommy Ryan, former lightweight champ, He and Kid McCoy will do several reels.

MINUS FINGER

DANVILLE, Ky.—"Red" Weaver, all-American center in 1919, has returned to Centre college minus one finger. He is playing just as good as ever, however.

ELKS' BOWLING LEAGUE

In the games of the Elks' bowling league last night, the Home Brews took three straight from the Builders, Niebuhr rolling high score, 186, for the winners. Recker turned in the high score for the Builders, 183, while Savage and Burghardt are tied for the low score of 75.

The Crowns won two out of three from the Sharks, Burford rolling 241 for the winners of the set, while Burghardt turned in 209 in the first game for the Sharks.

ORIOLES DEFEAT SAINTS IN OPENER

First Game of Post Season Series Goes to Baltimore Club 5 to 3

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 6.—Jack Bentley, star pitcher and first baseman of the Baltimore International league champions, sent St. Paul, winners of the American association championship, down to defeat on Tuesday in the first game of their post season series by a count of 5 to 3.

While his twirling was a bit loose toward the close, his hitting was faultless, and his two home run drives were responsible for four of the five runs chalked up to his team's credit.

The veteran Charley Hall opposed Baltimore and he pitched a good article of ball throughout. Save Bentley, the remainder of the local squad could do little or nothing with his curves in the pinches. He kept the hit column lower than Bentley did, but the Baltimore twirler showed his best in tight places.

Baltimore took the lead in the opening inning, when a single by Jacobson and a double by Hallien turned the trick. The Saints evened it up in the fourth on Kigger's home run. Each club chalked up one in the sixth. Bentley's first four fly smash accounting for the home club's counter, while a base on balls, a hit and two sacrifices netted the one for the Saints.

Singles by Lawry and Jacobson, followed by Bentley's second mighty crash, sent home the trio of runs in the eighth round. Four infield hits gave the losers their run in the closing round.

Except for a rather brisk wind which blew across the field the day was ideal for baseball. About 7,000 fans witnessed the contest. Score: Baltimore, 5; St. Paul, 3.

Batteries: Bentley and Styles; Hall and Hargrave.

LAMBETH STICKS

KANSAS CITY.—The K. C. club has wired the Spokane management that Pitcher Don Lambeth will stick. He was sold to Kansas City for $2,000 at the close of the Pacific International league season.

VERSATILE GIANTS

NEW YORK.—Art Neuf will furnish the piano melodies for Tom Grubbs in a vaudeville sketch this winter. They're both Giants. Grubbs shakes a wicked hood.

LAYIN' FOR HARVARD

CENTRE COLLEGE, Ky.—Centre college has more than doubled its attendance since turning out the "graying" football eleven last fall. They are laying for Harvard and expect a cleanup.

MACKS PASS GOAL

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The lowly Athletics have finally passed their goal. They have lost over 100 games. But Connie Mack hopes to win that many next year.

JUST FOUR BACK

GEORGETOWN, Ky.—Only four letter men of last year are back to grace the Georgetown gridiron. They are Captain Jones, Pollard, Adams and W. Jones.

LOCAL GOLFERS TIE WINONANS IN CONTEST SATURDAY

Both Teams Turn in Total of Forty Points in Meet at Winona Links

WINONA, Minn., Oct. 6.—The golf match between the La Crosse and Winona teams at the Country club links Saturday afternoon resulted in a tie, both teams totaling 40 points. The game was played in four-sets, two Winona players matched against La Crosse players according to their rank on the teams. Ben Knight, professional, was defeated by Chick Mazer, professional, on the La Crosse team.

About 60 guests were entertained, the majority making the trip to Winona in cars. Some of the guests arrived in the morning and played a round or two before lunch, but no matches were scheduled until the afternoon.

Ladies Entertained

The visiting ladies were entertained at cards, the Mesdames Frank Horton, H. S. Youmans, C. M. Youmans and Miss Bertha Schwabke acting as hostesses. A dinner was served in the evening and after a few dances the guests left for La Crosse, greatly pleased with their entertainment and all of them voicing the fact that a very enjoyable day was spent.

The La Crosse people were enthusiastic about the treatment accorded them and spoke only in praising terms of the grounds, the club-house, and its furnishings.

Return Match Saturday

Mr. James, vice president of the La Crosse club, on behalf of the La Crosse club extended a cordial invitation to all the Winona members and their wives for a return match next Saturday, October 9, and said he expected to see at least 100 make the trip. O. F. Bartholme stated that this invitation included all members whether players or not. The score:

STUART AGAIN WINS OVER LOCAL EXPERTS AT BODEGA CARNIVAL

Defeats William Lombard in Last Evening's Contest by Score of 100 to 20

Last evening's billiard contest at the Bodega carnival found F. A. Stuart, national organizer for the American billiard association, still on the job cleaning up the local "Knights of the green table," defeating William Lombard in the contest by a score of 100 to 20.

Mr. Stuart played a remarkable game, eliciting the bulls forty-three times, for his high run, while Lombard's high run was seven. A match between Ray Keats and the expert has been arranged for this evening, in the Hotel Hazard tournament, which has proved popular with the local pocket billiard players, the high scores are as follows: William Boudur, first and second, 72 and 71, and John Gaffey, third with 69.

REPORTS INDICATE LITTLE WAGERING ON 1920 WORLD SERIES

Supporters Not Willing to Back Their Confidence to Limit of Bank Rolls

NEW YORK.—Those who are in a position to know declare that it is doubtful if $100,000 all told has been wagered on the outcome of the clash between the National and American champions. In other years upwards of half a million dollars has always hung in the balance. No doubt the airing of the world's series scandal of a year ago by the grand jury in Chicago has had a great deal to do with the light purse strings this fall. While interest in the actual playing between the Robins and the Indians seems to be as great as ever, the fans are not rushing pell mell to uncover their bank rolls.

They no longer regard baseball as a betting proposition and except in a few isolated instances the amounts of the wagers have not run into four figures, and no five figure bets have been heard of. For the most part the bets have been small ones.

While supporters of the Brooklyn club have confidence in the ability of their team to hold its own, they are not willing to back their confidence to the limit of their bank rolls. Prior to the playing of the first game, they demanded odds of 7 to 5. On the other hand, the supporters of Cleveland seem to feel reasonably sure that the Indians would succeed in defeating the Robins but they could not see any such odds. They were unwilling to concede more than a point to the Brooklyn fans. In other words, Cleveland partisans were willing to give 6 to 5 but they would not give 7 to 5. The result amounted to almost a deadlock in the betting, neither side being willing to give in to the other.

'CROSS BAY JINX

SAN FRANCISCO.—The Oaks across the bay, continued to be the jinx of the Frisco Seals all season. Other clubs found Oakland an easy proposition most of the time.

NORMAL FOOTBALL MANAGER WITHDRAWS TO ACCEPT POSITION

Keeler's Football Squad in Good Shape After Stiff St. Thomas Game

"Sonny" Berg, manager of the La Crosse Normal School football team has left school to accept a position as teacher of Physical Education at Springfield, Ill. His place as manager has been taken by "Jimmie" Peterson, who is well known in La Crosse and vicinity. Jimmie entered upon his new duties last night.

With one or two exceptions, the team came out of the stiff St. Thomas game in fine shape. At the first scrimmage of the week, held last night the lineup was the same as the one which started the game at St. Paul last Saturday, except for Rippe McCormick was on his end of the line. In spite of the fact that the photographer was on hand the practice went well. "Tubby" is rounding off the rough corners this week, and the team which meets St. Mary's next Saturday afternoon at the Normal Field will be in mid-season form.

Nobody thinks anything now of going away on a trip

THE railroads were partly responsible. But it wasn't until the automobile reached its present state of development that the old barriers against travel were finally broken down.

More people own automobiles today than ever thought of owning a horse and buggy in the old days.

That's because the cost of motoring has been brought within reach of the average citizen's pocketbook.

We look upon it as part of our job to keep it there. If it weren't for the trade of the man with the medium priced car there wouldn't be much in this tire business for us.

The less a man has to spend on motoring, the more important it is that his tires should be of first quality.

Any tire is not good enough for the small car owner. He wants a tire that will give him just as much for his money in the small size as the big car man gets for his money in the large size.

In thinking over what kind of tires we would represent in this community we tried to put ourselves in the place of the car owner. And we believe we hit it exactly when we selected U. S. Tires.

WISCONSIN HAS HAD 16 SENATORS SINCE IT BECAME A STATE

Average Tenure of Office of
U. S. Senators is Term and a Half

TIMOTHY O. HOWE HOLDS
RECORD FOR LONG SERVICE

Served Three Full Terms in Early Days of State

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 6.—With a senatorial election pending in Wisconsin this fall, it is interesting to note that since the state was admitted into the union 72 years ago it has had but 16 United States senators. The average tenure of office of a senator is thus found to have been 2 years, or one term and a half. A considerable number have served longer than that, while a half dozen or less. The senators, with their years of election have been: Isaac P. Walker, 1848 and 1849; Henry Dodge, 1848 and 1851; Charles Durkee, 1855; James R. Doolittle, 1857 and 1860; Timothy O. Howe, 1861, 1867 and 1870; Matthew H. Carpenter, 1860 and 1870; Angus Cameron, 1875 and 1881; Philletus Sawyer, 1881 and 1887; John C. Spooner, 1885, 1897 and 1903; William P. Vilas, 1891; John L. Mitchell, 1893; J. V. Quarles, 1899; Robert M. La Follette, 1901, 1911, and 1916; Isaac Stephenson, 1907 and 1908; Paul O. Husting, 1914; Irvine L. Lenroot, 1918.

Senators who were elected twice and twice only were Isaac P. Walker, Henry Dodge, James R. Doolittle, Angus Cameron, Matthew H. Carpenter, Philletus Sawyer, and Isaac Stephenson. Those elected for one term were Charles R. Durkee, William P. Vilas, John L. Mitchell, J. V. Quarles and Paul O. Husting. Only three men have been elected to the senate three times from Wisconsin, Timothy O. Howe, John C. Spooner and Robert M. La Follette.

Not all senators elected twice served full terms. Thus Isaac P. Walker, and Henry Dodge, the first two senators from the state, were first elected for short terms of two years and then re-elected for full terms. Senator Stephenson was first elected to fill out the unexpired term of John C. Spooner and then re-elected for a full term. Of the senators elected once, one died in office, Paul O. Husting, who was accidentally killed while hunting in 1917. Irvine L. Lenroot, the sixteenth and last senator from Wisconsin, was chosen to fill Husting's unexpired term in the spring of 1918. Timothy O. Howe holds the record for tenure of service, having served three full terms. Next comes John Spooner, who was also elected three times, but who resigned in 1907 after about 16 years of service. Senator La Follette, the present senior senator, has served 15 years.

RIVER IMPROVEMENT WORK UP NORTH OF WINONA STOPPED

River improvement work in the district above Winona, over which Capt. J. D. DuShane has charge, has been concluded for the present season. It is reported at Fountain City, and the government boats have been placed in their winter quarters at Fountain City bay and South Stillwater. The season, it is said, was shorter than usual as the appropriations were less. On account of the high water in the river a late start was made. Capt. Thompson's fleet is said to be still out in the district below Winona.

COURT OF APPEALS REVERSES DECISION IN BECKER CASE

Conviction of Badger Judge Found Faulty by United States Tribunal

CHICAGO — The United States Court of Appeals here on Tuesday reversed the judgment of the federal district court for the western district of Wisconsin in the case of County Judge J. M. Becker. Green county, Wisconsin, found guilty of violation of the espionage act.

Judge Becker was found guilty and sentenced to three years in federal prison for making a speech at Monroe, Wis., on Feb. 5, 1918, where he is alleged to have said:

"The idea of having a ministry of fuel and food is ridiculous. This is a rich man's war."

The appellate court, reversing the decision of the district court, based its action on what officials held was the over zealousness of witnesses who testified against Judge Becker.

ALLEGED THIEVES HELD AT WINONA FOR MANY CASES

The mystery of two recent robberies, one at Trempealeau and the other at Minnetonka, was solved when Winona police took in custody Francis Froler, aged 17, the "red headed youth" sought by authorities in Minnesota and Wisconsin, according to announcement by the Winona authorities. Froler confessed to the robberies, the police say, following his arrest in connection with an affair at the Hotel Winona, where he has been employed as bell boy.

Ben Skellinger, aged 25, is held together with Froler in connection with the "jimmying" of two traveling men's sample trunks Sunday and an attempt to dispose of some of the "spoil" to co-workers later in the day, it was said at the hotel. Both were taken to the police station.

Normal Notes

The band is tuning up for Saturday's game. There are twenty three or four fellows out for the band now, and more expected. Three rehearsals this week will be devoted to learning the Normal songs so that the band will be able to give the football team adequate support at the home games.

The first meeting of the Men's Debating Society was held last night.
